I’m so glad you found me and are interested in working together! Long story short, I am a blogger, educator, podcaster, wife, and dog mom living in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. I’m on a mission to help women feel empowered about the choices they make when it comes to using clean beauty, organic skincare, sustainable fashion, and overall living a more natural, holistic, and sustainable lifestyle.

What started out as a side hobby in 2016, my blog “Organically Becca” quickly turned into a full-blown passion project and small business. I left my job in corporate America and a steady paycheck to pursue this dream of mine. It’s not always easy, but is so rewarding to be able to help others make better choices for their health!

Chances are, if you’re reading this, you’re someone that cares about these topics as well. And chances are that you might also be interested in collaborating with me! So if that’s the case, you’re in the right spot. This media kit should be exactly what you need in order to decide if you think we’re a good fit.

So keep reading and I can’t wait to hear what you have in mind and how you plan on working together! I truly believe in community over competition and that we can make a bigger impact together instead of alone. And lastly, I’m just so thankful that you were interested enough to learn more and reach out.

xo, Becca

[updated July 2020]
Across social media, newsletter subscribers, and blog traffic, my community is mostly young women from the United States. They know the basics of natural living and are pretty savvy when it comes to ingredients, but might be looking for guidance and a little extra help when it comes to switching to cleaner products.

They cling to authenticity and honest reviews and will see right through fakeness. They honor progress, not perfection.

I also don’t believe in buying “followers” or bots on social media. My community is made of real people that are truly invested in what I share and are totally engaged. So my numbers might not be in the hundreds of thousands, but you can bet your bottom dollar that my community is listening to what I’m sharing! I even consider many of them personal friends. They support me as much as I support them.

Speaking of that, I will never share something with them that I don’t 100% believe in and always aim to be transparent and candid on social media and my blog. You can’t pay me for a positive review!

Overall, my readers are invested, trust my opinion, and value the content that I create for them!
